

People Change People

People change people.

Not stuff, not giveaways, not blankets and candy.

Education changes people but there's always that teacher. Faith changes people but who was it that led you to faith?

We have great people working for This Child Here. Government agencies want us. Faith based programs want us. The people that work for This Child Here are the best and the brightest. They are smart, committed and caring. They work out of love for what they do. I will be traveling around, talking about vulnerable youth and children in Ukraine and our people who work with them and what we do. Below is a schedule.

I've known Yosjik since 2005 when I shot the photo at the top of the page. He came to live at The Way Home, the Odessa Charity that gave me office space when I first moved to Ukraine. They changed his life and I was glad to be a part of it.
